Camp Pillsbury
Pillsbury College Prep

Vonda White is the founder and owner of Pillsbury College Prep. Vonda is proud to be involved in a cutting edge boarding school for domestic and international students which offers outstanding academic and performing arts opportunities. Camp Pillsbury, a subsidiary of Pillsbury College Prep, is a premier summer camp which runs during the months of June to August. It is an outstanding summer camp geared around building confidence and strengthening performing arts skills. As a mother of three children who love and have benefitted from the summer camp experience so much, Ms. White wanted to make it available to more kids.

Vonda's desire to provide life changing opportunities to our youth and help them become our future leaders of tomorrow, encouraged her to launch the opening of Pillsbury College Prep, and Camp Pillsbury. Ms. White purchased what was formerly Pillsbury Baptist College on April 11, 2014. With a fast and furious turn-around time, her vision was made into reality as she welcomed children onto her campus two short months later. Ms. White believes we can change the world for the better, one camper or student at a time.

An entrepreneur from Florida, Vonda White is also Founder/CEO of Collegiate Risk Management, which proudly serves thousands of students nationwide for student health and accident insurance and various ancillary insurance products.

Vonda quit a successful job in 1996 to start her own company. In order to follow her passion in helping the lives of youths, she then started another new business, Pillsbury College Prep/Camp Pillsbury, in 2014. She will share the lessons she has learned of being an entrepreneur.

Ms. White has received numerous awards and recognition for her efforts, including:

- Several Small Business of the Year Awards for 2005, 2004 and 2003.
